

4TH ANNUAL BOSS™
SHOWCASE
VOICES OF CHANGE

Virtual | January 29, 2021
SPONSORED BY:

Arlene J. Ford & Christopher Reynolds

Our mission is to create an equal playing field in education for our boys, especially those of color and/or from under-resourced communities and schools, by providing year-round and multi-year academic programming (STEM focused including language arts), positive role models, networking and career exposure, mentoring, life guidance, real world experiences, opportunities for advocacy and service, equipment and other resources so that our boys are as “advantaged” as their peers.

W E L C O M E

On behalf of the ESP Education & Leadership Institute team, we'd like to thank you for joining us virtually for a showcase of BOSS™, the year-round, multi-year STEAM-focused academic enrichment, leadership, life skills and personal development “process” through which we are taking our BOSS™ boys starting in middle school.

Our goal is simple: to help boys develop the character, discipline habits and skills to pursue success beyond sports, with an emphasis on STEAM, critical thinking/writing and related fields.

The showcase is our opportunity to share the BOSS™ “process” with you with a view towards your taking advantage of the year-round, multi-year programming we are providing today. In addition, we will explore ways to leverage sports participation to achieve academic and life success and consider what it takes to pursue the many different non-playing career and related entrepreneurial opportunities our mentors represent.

Our mentors, who were once in your shoes, will share how their participation in sports has contributed to the success they have achieved beyond sports in the many different career and entrepreneurial pursuits they represent.

We thank you for taking the time to invest in “you”. A special “thanks” is extended to our sponsors, without whose help we could not have presented the amazing experience we have planned for you including, but not limited to, First Foundation, Los Angeles Rams, AT&T, CBS Sports, Morgan Stanley, Oaktree, Valero, and Matson.

DR. CLARENCE M. LEE, JR.

The PERSISTence Coach

Dr. Lee is a Christian-encourager, nationally celebrated author, international speaker, and CEO of CMLEEJR Co., a professional development enterprise that conducts live training experiences on high performance and mental conditioning for teams, organizations and students.

A former student-athlete, Dr. Lee holds a degree in Biology (B.S.) from University of the Incarnate Word, and degrees in Medicine (M.D.) and Business (M.B.A.) from Drexel University. Also a decorated war veteran, Dr. Lee served in the United States Air Force for 10 years with several assignments, his last being a flight surgeon flying the T-38 and U-2 airframes in one the most elite squadrons in the USAF.

Dr. Lee is the author of the inspirational memoir “Well, My Mom Says...” as well as his latest book “PERSIST”. He is a columnist for several publications and his work has been featured in Live Happy Magazine, Black Fitness Today, and Essence Magazine to name a few. He regularly appears as an on-air TV health expert and has been featured in segments on ABC, CBS, and FOX television stations.

Recently, Dr. Lee was named Top 40 under 40 by the Sacramento Business Journal and Drexel University. He has been highlighted as one of the top healthcare entrepreneurs to know by Becker’s Hospital Review, one of the top Black entrepreneurs to follow by Yahoo! Finance, and is one recent recipient of the Black Enterprise Modern Man award.
